David,
I don't believe it! We had every single class together but still didn't kill each other. This year was pretty good, at least it's one I'll always remember. I went to the first party of yours that was controlled. I'll see you at the pool this summer & next year in Span. 5 with our friend?. Karen

Hey David,
Wow it's Summer again. Free for 3 more months I guess the only truly free now is one who can decline an dinner invitation without giving an excuse, Well got to get to wasted. You crazy guy. See You soon and don't

Dave,
When you're out of this school year as a moment back on this year as a moment in the past, what would you remember Frankie Poo and intellectual class, but set off by AFS Club, and that trip (well
Dave, You're everything with you! I hope its alright and that you will always have good friends though life. We seem to be good friends, even though I don't have anything in common with your other friends. I'm glad you asked me to sign your yearbook, even if my picture is not in it. I've known you about a ½ year now, & this time I've got to know you well, & you me. I think you know me, but I'm not sure if I really know me. Thanks for inviting me to your party and dinner. Wesley and I liked the party, as for the dinner I wouldn't have liked it, Nothing Personal its just your friends and I are worlds apart. Its pretty cool though, to have a friend like you. You may not it but you're pretty funny Luke. Hope to see you in the summer and wherever.

David,
A.P History & 3/4 of Math Analysis was fun. You were the strangest president A.F.S ever had. The activities section was good this year. I can't think of anything else to write so..
Happy Birthday a week late.
Have a great summer,
Take Care,
Hope to see you next year,
Penny

Hallo David-darlink,

So - howya mutha? Listen, it's too bad we couldn't get togetha dis year to make matza-knishes + bagel sauce. Mayle dis summa.

Really man - I think you're far-out wow. It was really grinchy spiff havin' you in study-hall. Remember to forget the gross-out jokes. It was great & talkin about Crummy + Davis + AFS parties + You really enlightened my existence! Seriously though - it was a good year - Do well next year + stay straight!

take care,

Karen

Dave, Where can I start? I don't even remember how long I've known you but it's long enough to know you're a pretty great guy. Well, I made it through 2 sentences without mentioning John. What can I say about him anyway? As much as I've seen of the GREEN LEAF, everyone has done a terrific job and I know it'll get better each time I go through it. Every year I say "Maybe I'll see you at the pool this summer" and I never get up there. Well, I'll try harder in the coming months. I heard you are going to the prom and I'm thrilled. It'll be fun. Take Care of yourself and Best Wishes. I'll be back to visit next year.

Seriously, Dave, your section in the Yearbook is REALLY well done → it looks like you put a lot of work into it. Congrats!!!

Good Luck

Be Good

Love,

Cecilia

Dave,

This is one hell of a yearbook for a change - anythanks to you! Only kidding!!!) Think you'll ever forget Boom's surprise party? I know I will!!! This year was really pretty good - in school and out. Can you imagine Crum, Gay-boy, Hsm, & Mary all in one year? How did we do it? As Tom would say, "Well, if I Knew." Over the summer me, you, Stan, Mike, and anybody else that wants to will have to get together and

PARTY!!!

O.K. - this summer, Take it easy and don't have to cool, and don't have any night mares about Bonnie King and Oscar!!! (That was such a laugh!!!) I can't wait to go there again!!!

Witty Candor And A Candid Wit

The classroom atmosphere is casual and relaxed. Small groups of students lounge in various attitudes and confer semi-seriously about the vocabulary test to come. In lumbers our dedicatee with a booming, jovial voice to begin the period and, unfortunately for those who have neglected to study, the test. Our teacher wanders about the room throwing out the ordained list while his eyes cast about for a comfortable place to light. Ah, he spies an empty desk top at the back of the room and, whistling a little under his breath, takes this vantage point. Surveying the class, he now begins to spice his recital of words with dramatics. "Minutia - sounds like the word for a Japanese camera! (a pause - then a chuckle) Hey, I've got a minutia, want me to take your picture?" At the end of the test he gives bonus points for what he terms his "vagarious definitions". This is the part of the weekly vocabulary exam for which our teacher is famous. The witty pun of the day: "the smile of an arab king." Answer - chagrin (shah grin!)

This is just one example of how this teacher makes the traditional senior English course routine an absorbing experience.

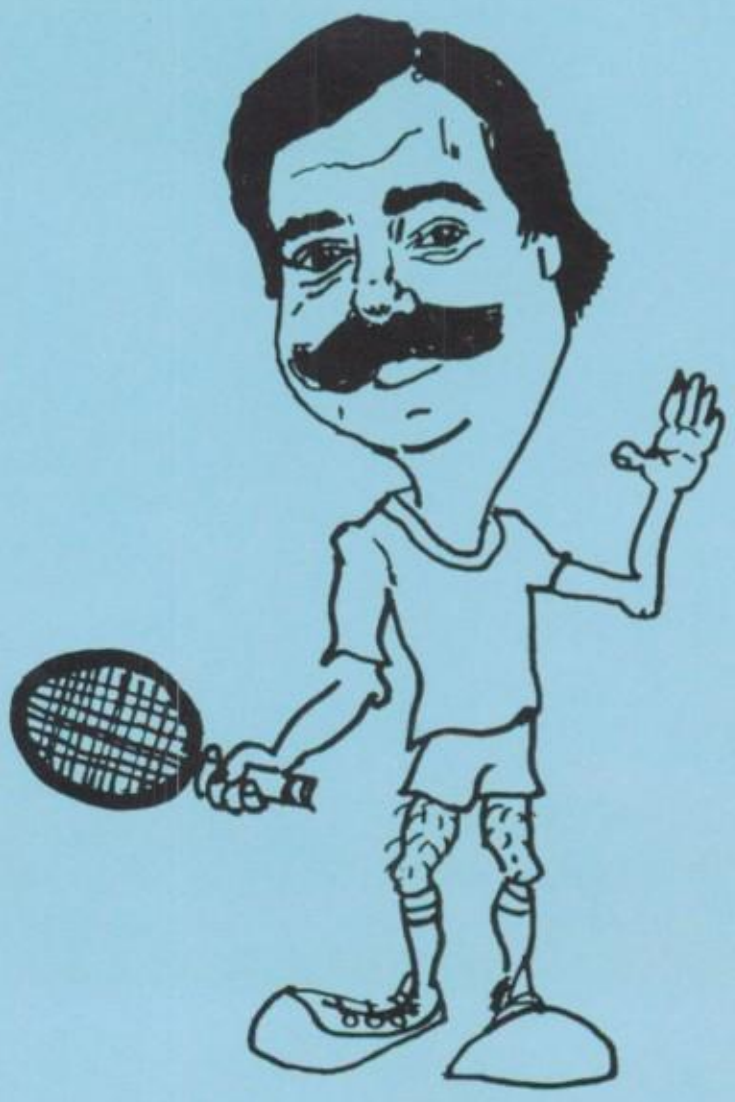
But our dedicatee does much more than entertain and challenge his classes. On a gray, late afternoon weekday, he can be found near the soccer or hockey field sitting at a fold up table taking your money with a smile under that walrus mustache and trading hands that ticket of admittance to the day's sporting event.

In the spring, our versatile man becomes the "Pancho Segura" of our able tennis team, lending his knowledge and straightforward manner to the victory of our athletes.

His stretch of influence even extends to the scholarship fund for which he volunteers his services by filling faculty soda machines.

Since 1962 when he first came to the Mount Pleasant district, he has devoted himself to his job of teaching but above all else to the students, themselves. Who will ever forget that wry sense of humor, those Great American Epics, or the weekly vocabulary test?

For your understanding and your sphere of influence, we, the 1978 Green Leaf staff, proudly dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. James Shoemaker.



"I Love Kids! Some of 'em are ornery but i love 'em just the same.

Mrs. Eva B. Pierson

Every school day, one of Mount Pleasant's dedicated staff members can be seen pushing either a long-handled broom or her celebrated shopping cart down a seemingly endless string of corridors. Her tennis shoes, another trademark, help her keep up with the grueling pace of an eight-hour working day. She is, however, never too busy to take time out and talk with students. "Mom", or "Sweetiepie" as she is affectionately nicknamed, is renowned for her special rapport with the school's student body. On this topic she comments, "I love kids. Some of 'em are ornery but I love 'em just the same." One of the greatest joys of her work is the ability to see kids "grow into young ladies and gentlemen." As far as her job is concerned, she says simply, "I love my work. I've worked in this district for nine years and I hope to work here for many more." In honor of her dedication and of her relationship with us students, The Mount Pleasant Green Leaf proudly recognizes Mrs. Eva B. Pierson.

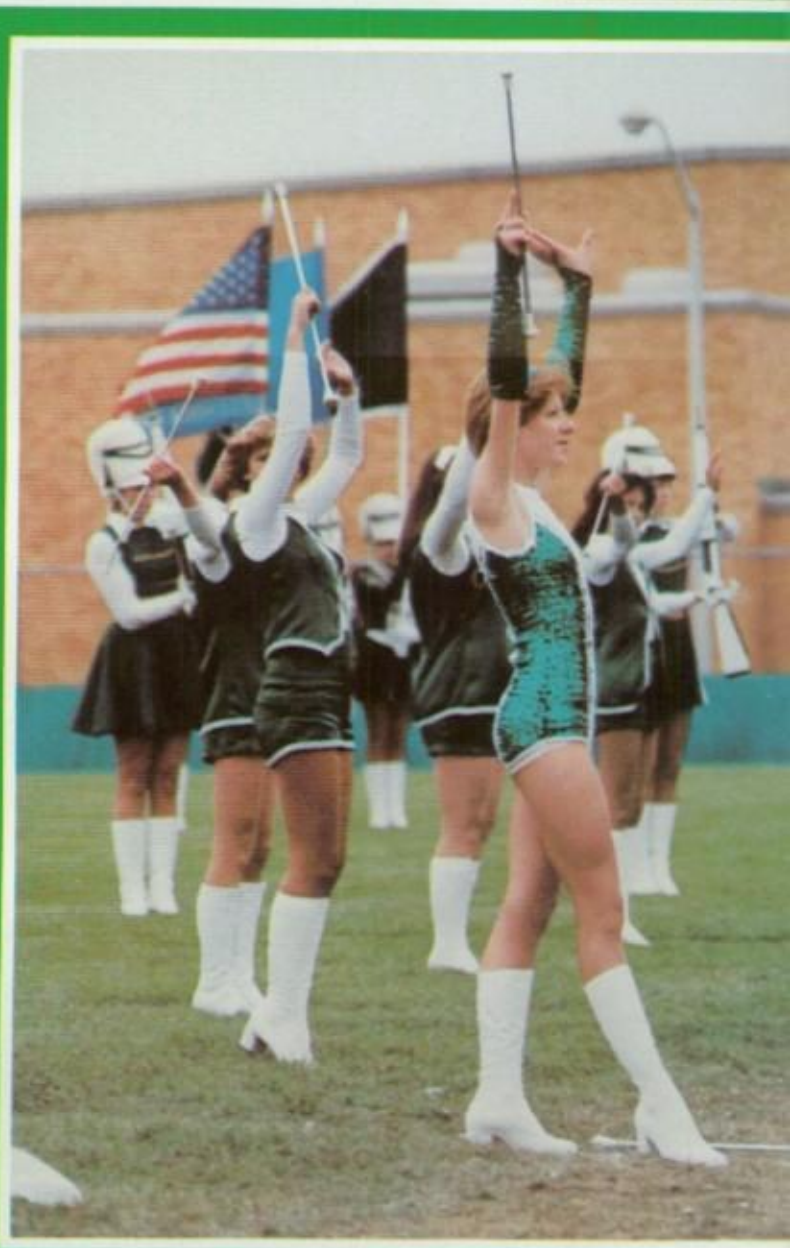
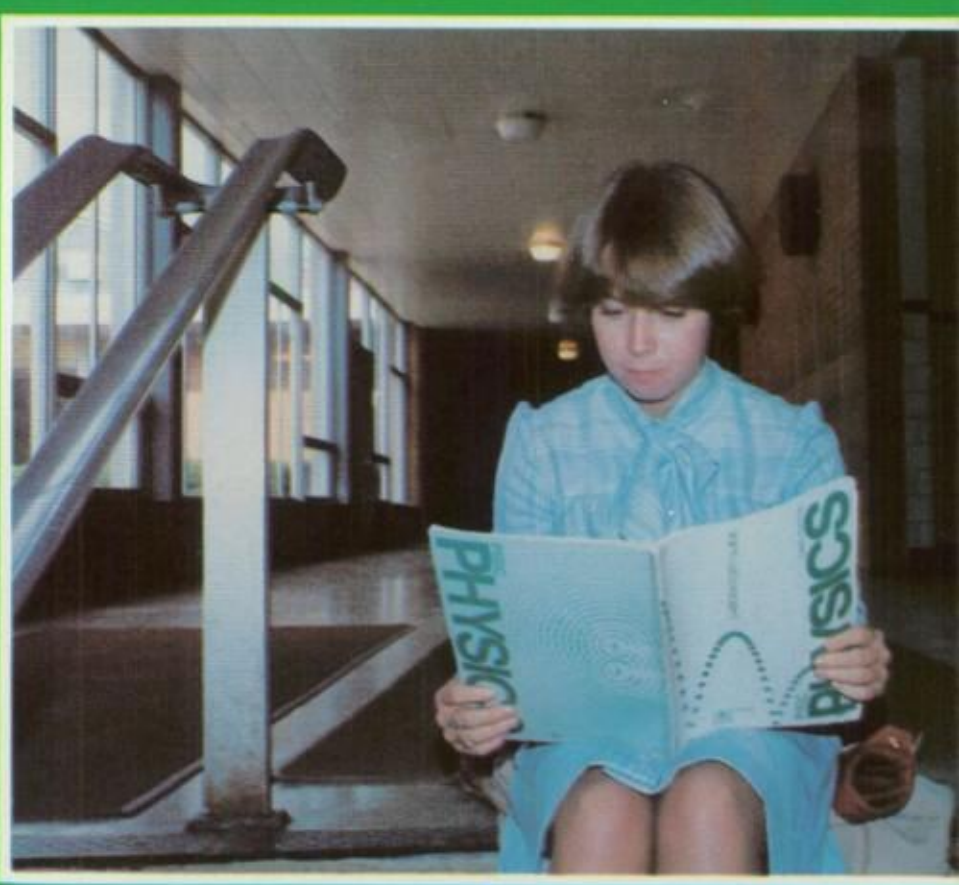
Meeting In Passing

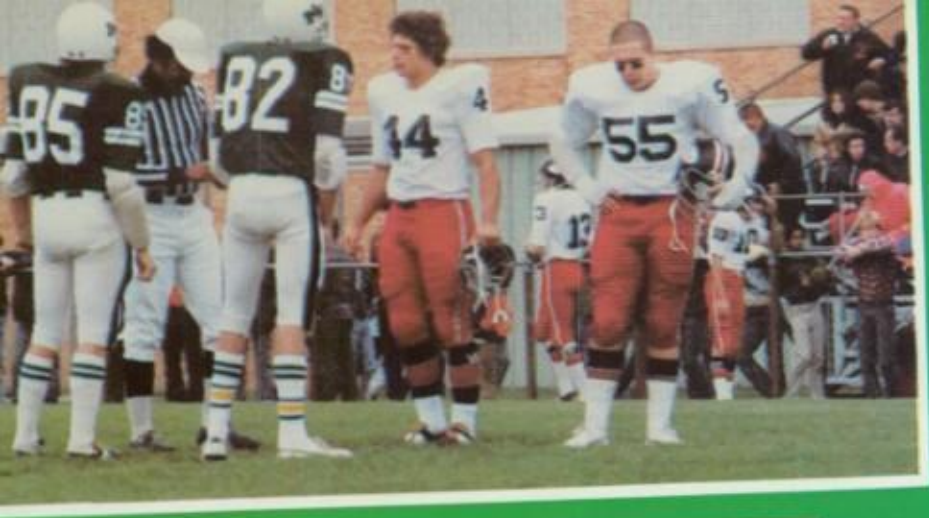
David,

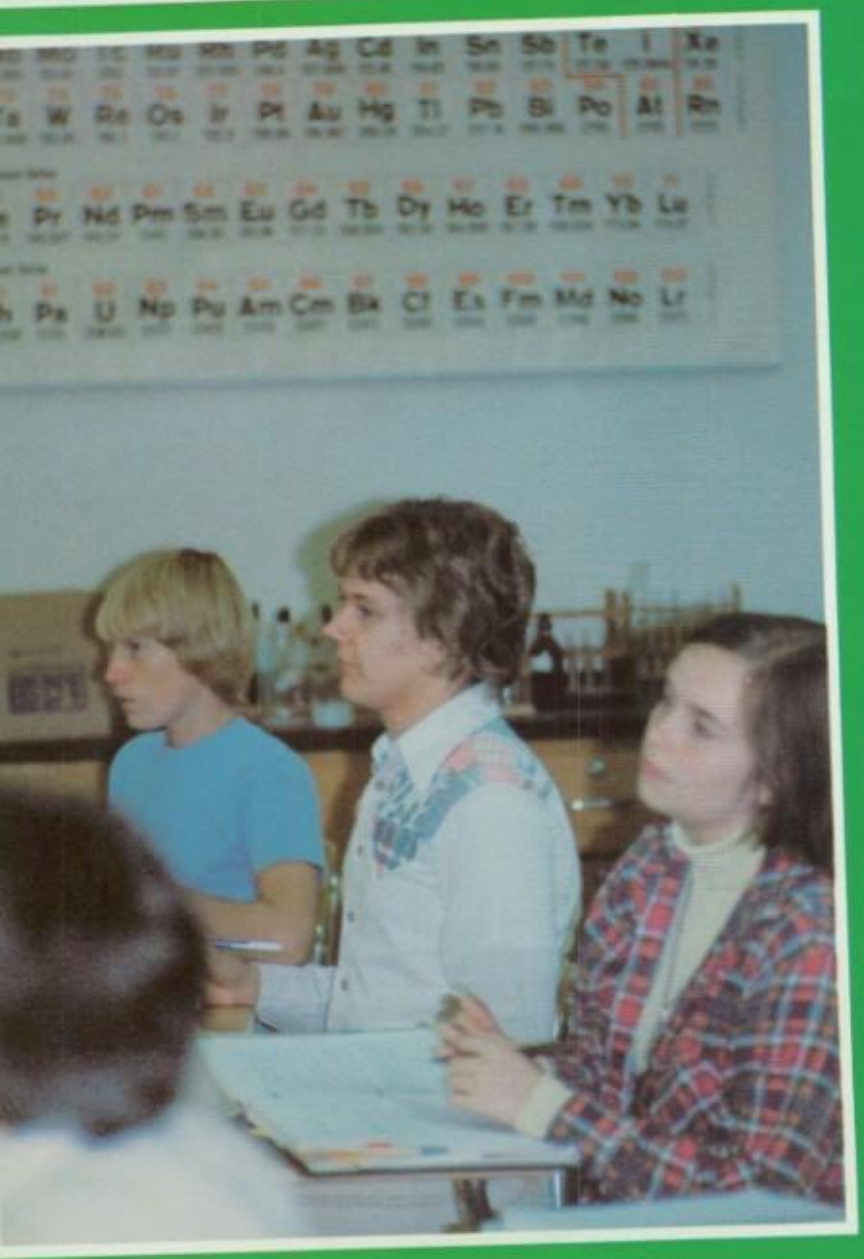
The yearbook is great; it shows a lot of work well done. Keep up the good work. Best wishes. Have a nice summer,

Yours,
Fred.









Dear Jeanie,

Well, it's been a good year. I'm glad you're going to be a part of the Key Club next year. I'm sure you'll enjoy it. Keep up the good work in school and in sports. Have a great summer and see you in September. (I'm not sorry)

Sincerely yours,

Jeanie Bowden

For a long time
now,
I have felt your presence
and taken it for granted that just because you were there in Chemistry you'd be there in Physics.
Well, the valence of chlorine is 35.5
but,
how in the world
will I memorize Newton's Laws of Motion without you?

It is difficult to imagine morning
without your sleepy smile in homeroom.
Your yawn somehow set things into perspective.
How will I remember my locker combination without your perennial chatter to force my intense concentration?
(. . . is it 7 to the right and 25 to the left or vice versa?)

Lord, a football game will never be the same unless you are there to spill coke on my knee
and mumble your apologies
while you wave to catch the attention of your latest love interest.
Every time
I prepare myself to parallel park,
I will doubtlessly be reminded of how you giggled
in the backseat of that Driver's Ed. car
as I hit the curb.
↖(I thought I had the brakes on . . .)

Dave,
I can't believe we lived through 9 years I mean months, of Gam-gam! It seems like forever! But he made class a real riot! And we also got to catch up on our sleep.
We'll have to play some tennis this summer and do stuff because last summer we could never get together.
Keep up your Ernestaut Fleming-way and retain your birds.

Love,
Michelle

P.S.— Personally I'm looking forward to next year and being a Senior. How 'bout you?

when you were driving Adrienne's car and I was sitting next to you and you were so dumb that you thought those guys were on the back of the car when I told you to get! Pretty Smart Bowden- "like wow man - Class A-1 brain here" Seriously though you are pretty smart - you've got to be pretty smart to know how to cheat good- take me for an example - don't you think I'm smart? Of course not because I don't know how to cheat well!! I'm glad we didn't have any classes together that way I didn't have to hear your monster-size mouth - It would have been nice though if we had one class where I sat next to you so I could feel your legs.'- WOW!!! Remember when we played tennis - Tennis "gee what's tennis - Oh yeah that's the game

And, what of those many sentence fragments we've left - where you see how many times you can either hit the ball over the fence fractured? We meet only in passing or hit Joan with then we must part in memories the ball where of that forever dangling metaphor you're not supposed to we've never solved; hit her. Oh well ---- made it all Goodbye. better! Remember him. That's a laugh and a half - Well maybe a laugh and three - quarters. I hope Rich my darling doesn't get mad that I'm writing more trashy novel stuff in your yearbook more than his, it's just that every time I sigh his yearbook it seems like he's in a hurry to get away from me. Oh well I still love him just the same. I hate you aren't you jealous??? I am praying to God that you are not taking Spanish next year. That is my class A-1 reason for hating you. Yuk don't ever remind me of that old brujo she has turned plenty a day of mine - although she can be alright other times. She is good for a laugh. Well what was I getting at - oh yes Spanish - well If I hear one 6.— d- more word of Spanish I will take that word and — — — — (leave it up to your vivid imagination!!)

w could be so horny when you are drunk - with a guy" Dawd how come on - really deserving will never ever let you forget that !! Although I know you want to. Hope you had fun sleeping with

(If I find a home in my mailbox I'll know why!) Ha! ha! Really though, we have had some pretty fun times, haven't we? Like all the fun (?) we had working on yearbook! Professionally speaking, I think we did a great job! We even managed to put up with Lisa which was a great feat! Remember "Beatles White Album", and that Springerium. I'm really glad we met and managed to become and remain friends. Without you I may even've been straight! (Cough, choke!) Football

The Knights suffered a disappointing 2-8 record this season although it was highlighted by an outstanding performance in a come-from-behind victory over arch-rival Claymont. The season gained early light as the Green Knights fought hard against a powerful Wilmington team and their efforts just fell short in losing 28-18. This early light was darkened, however, as the Knights were dealt five straight losses which were due largely to offensive turnovers. With this, the defense spent a great deal of time on the field and therefore received much undeserved criticism.

The only bright spot in offense this season was in the hard running of halfback Jim Hull who churned out many tough yards. The defense proved to be hard-hitting throughout the season; it reached a peak as the offense finally put it together near the end of the season.

On homecoming day, the Knights were sky high, but even as Claymont took an early 7-0 lead, a Green Knight victory was in the air. A 30-yard touchdown pass from Rob Soule to Chris Knauss broke the ice, and from then on the defense physically beat up the tournament-seeking Indians as the ambulance gained more yardage than the Claymont offense. The Knights rolled to an emotional 14-7 victory and the fans stormed the field after the game in appreciation.

High spirited Green Knight emotions were deadened quickly as Dickinson showed its superiority in a 27-6 victory over the Knights as the offense was again riddled by turnovers. The Knights' 20-6 victory over Conrad was sloppy, but the defensive play was exceptional as was the case in the final 9-0 loss against Brandywine in which Brandywine only scored by a blocked punt in the end zone and a long field goal. The JV recorded an 8-1-1 record this season; the Knights look for a tournament bound team next year.

Field Hockey

This year, the field hockey team completed its season with an outstanding 10-2-1 record. Coached by Miss Rose Ewan and Miss Marcla Ellison, the girls reached the semi-finals of the state tournament and took second place in the Blue Hen Conference.

The overall attitude of the players was a key factor in their success. Displaying a great deal of team unity and determination, the girls performed far beyond anyone's expectations.

The varsity squad consisted of six seniors: Nancy Blizzard, Lori Hathaway, Kathy Moyer, Vandana Sinha, and captains Liz Kealy and Jeanette Mori. Juniors Julie Donaghy and Kim Koula played defensive positions. Two sophomores, Margaret Harper and Tracy Simunovich, claimed starting offensive positions. Kim Stoessel, also a sophomore, did an outstanding job as goalie. As substitutes, seniors Kim Ide and Holly Ryder also contributed to the success of the team.

The junior varsity team finished the season with an impressive record. Because there were no freshmen sports this year, coach Ewan permitted her freshmen players to take junior varsity positions in several games. As a result, everyone on the team was given the opportunity to participate in at least one game.

Miss Ewan enjoyed working with this year's team immensely. She felt that they had a spectacular season and that the team consisted of a fine group of enthusiastic individuals.

Booters

The soccer team proved to be the most productive boys' fall sports team this year with impressive state tournament players who lost to a more experienced but not more aggressive Concord team. A winning atmosphere at the beginning of the 1977 soccer season emerged from a host of returning lettermen including co-captains, Jim Bachman and Dana Walker as well as Jim Hughes, Mike Osman, Ed Ferriss, Joe Mattey, and Wayne Shaw. This atmosphere, however, drifted away as the team suffered the loss of Dion Taylor and injuries to Dana Walker and Larry Tarabicos which drove the team into a dismal four game losing streak. The dying team recovered from its wounds as Dana and Larry returned to action, and with this, the winning atmosphere drifted back and hovered over the Knights for the remainder of the season. In the second half of the season the Knights recorded 5 wins against 2 losses and outscored their opponents 17-10. This outstanding performance lifted their Blue hen Conference record to 6 wins and 5 losses; this gave them a berth in the state tournament. Playing against Concord, who held their opponents scoreless during regular season play, the Knights took a shocking 1-0 halftime lead. This reflected the pregame philosophy of giving the game all they had for they had nothing to lose. A scared Concord team showed its superiority in the second half as the Knights' gritty play fell short as Concord scored three nifty goals in the second half. The team's gallant effort in this 3-1 loss earned the team respect from not only the Mount Pleasant fans but also the many other spectators on hand. The skills of Dana Walker and Joe Mattey received recognition as Dana was selected for second team all-conference and Joe was selected for the third team all-conference. Special commendation should be given to Varsity coach Robert Landis and J.V. coach Ron Brown for producing continual fine soccer team play at Mount Pleasant.

V-Ballers

The 6-6 record that the 1977 volleyball team compiled does not show the talent that the team possesses. The individual players each established the basic skills needed to produce a good defensive team. The girls then advanced their strategy toward a physically and mentally strong team, which proved to be a major requirement of power volleyball.

No one girl can be singled out as being the best player. Each girl did her part in every match although some did excel more than others in a particular game. Senior Dora Ritter helped defensively in recovering spikes while junior Karen Sheldon helped offensively with her hard spikes to the floor of the opposing team. Captains Laurie Barbour and Lynn Jump provided the extra hard work required to maintain a successful team. Other seniors helping the team score points were Gloria Chambers, Karen Frankel, Maggie Fleming, and Julie Hoopes.

Looking toward the future, next year's team shows great promise as being a state championship contender with four starters returning. Among those letter-winners that will return are Sharon Angeline, Nancy Cason, Mary Jane Gladnick, Lynn Jump, and Karen Sheldon. Coach Betty Stewart regrets having to part with these fine players, but realizes that she has a strong group of girls in which to build a foundation for future teams. Next year the team will be more experienced and should pose a threat to all opponents.

Distance Men

This year's cross country team, comprised of many fine young runners, finished the season with a record of 3-6. Despite this mediocre record, there were several bright spots in the season. Senior Mark Beaumont was able to score 2 firsts this year and senior Dave Hagar finished a strong thirty-fourth in the conference and established a school record of 16:56 minutes for the 2.94 miles Bellevue State Park course.

Although the team's record wouldn't reflect it, coach Crowther did a good job of running practices. They consisted mostly of running numerous half-mile mini-courses to develop stamina. Everyday the dedicated runners would run 6-8 miles.

Mount Pleasant has the potential to develop a strong team in the future with the likes of Mark and Joe Sudimak, Mike Budishak, and Tom Webster all returning next year. Each man showed a great deal of potential this season. Another thing which will help is having the Bellevue State Park course for home meets. This familiarity with their home course could be the edge the knights need to score a victory in the future.

Boys' B-Ball

The boys' basketball team won eleven of their last thirteen games in the regular season this year which helped them gain a tournament berth and an outstanding 14-6 overall record. Trying to find a starting lineup that worked well together was Coach Bill Fentzloff's early dilemma as the basketball team's high student interest set the pace for a team of great overall depth. As a result, Coach Fentzloff's starting five of Willie Evans, Jody Ambrosino, Freddy Bivens, John Shelley, and Ken Fox played excellent team basketball. They surged during the second half of the season and by the end, the Knights were very well-respected. They literally caught the fever as the spirit week artwork indicated at the Brandywine game where our Knights were victorious in an overtime period. The fans proved that the fever was indeed contagious. Cape Henlopen High School was the sight of the Knight's season finale as an extremely quick Indian River team, that advanced to the tournament finals, outmaneuvered the Knights who perhaps suffered from the down-state atmosphere. The future looks bright for basketball at Mount Pleasant as more talent seems to be developing and the experience of our coaches's proving to be an asset.

Girls' B-Ball

The 1977-78 girls' basketball team finished their long season with an overall 6-14 record. The girls developed their skills during the season and improved their game strategy immensely. The team's attitude gave the individual players a self-motivated drive to do their very best in each game. The team consisted of many underclassmen with hopes of future stardom. Senior Caryn Glayd and junior Karen Sheldon proved to be the real leaders of the squad when they were elected co-captains. Karen was the season's high scorer with 206 points; Caryn followed her in the race. After a long illness, junior Karen VanOot was a tremendous asset to the team. Sophomore Margaret Harper scored many points in pursuit of victory. Lisa Ambrosino and Robin Lee the only freshmen on the varsity squad, played consistently well throughout the season. All of these players, excluding Caryn Gloyd, will be returning next season with determination to win. The younger JV players led by co-captains Kiki Kealy and Medha Sinha will also return to a very prospective season.

State Champs

Our impeccable Green Knight swimmers suffered through the agony of a long season this year in which their greatest competition came from their own teammates rather than against other schools as the idling factor of our mounting boys' swim team diminished itself from a lack of serious competition. The Knights chalked up an undefeated regular season in which they scored over 100 points in each meet, and their outstanding performance in the day-long state meet captivated the hearts of the spectators on hand with a record-breaking 133 points. Co-captains Kriss Wilson and Bruce Gemmell paved their road to success with their great determination and leadership. Many thanks were eared by Coach Bob France who fought the bitter early morning practices in a cordial manner and who showed his great integrity by not only allowing all the swimmers a chance to swim, but also surmounted crushing victories.

The boys presented many outstanding performances in the state meet. Bruce Gemmell swam to victory in the 200 yd. individual medley and the 500 yd. freestyle. Jay Russell proved to be strong also in winning both the 50 yd. freestyle and the 100 yd. freestyle. Eric Ericson chalked up a win in the 100 yd. backstroke. The 400 yd. freestyle relay of Bruce Gemmell, Kriss Wilson, Rob Stone, and Jay Russell defeated the other teams by a wide margin as did the 200 yd. medley relay team of Tim McAloon, Anders Wellings, Eric Ericson and Rob Stone. Congratulations are due to all those who participated on this state championship team. Special thanks are stemmed to seniors Ted Caddell, Sean Dahl, Chris Knauss, Brian Waring, and Kriss Wilson for making this season so memorable.

Girls' Swim

The girls' swim team started off the season just as any state champions would be expected to. They "streamed" past Claymont and nearly drowned William Penn. Their third meet of the season against Brandywine was one that will be remembered by all who attended. One fan (we're not sure from what team) decided he would take a quick dip during the final and meet-deciding race. The fact that this most enthusiastic visitor was an Irish Setter really brought the crowd to its feet. They remained standing throughout the finish of the freestyle relay because of the importance of the victory. Our girls left the pool with another victory, but the feeling of triumph was not possessed by the swimmers. They had indeed won, but because of a disqualification handed down to the Bulldogs after a controversial decision as to the victor of the relay, the girls were not sure how they really felt about the situation.

The remaining meets seemed easy enough until the girls collided with Newark. It was the girls' most hard fought battle, but fate was their strongest spectator. They finished the season with a 7-1 record that Mount Pleasant should be proud of.

The small but strong group of girls who comprised the team deserves a great deal of credit for their dedication to this fine sport. The girls experienced a most exciting and extraordinary season. They are looking forward to next season in an attempt to regain the state title. They should prove to be the better team after losing only two seniors this year, Laurie Barbour and Sharyn Ridler.

Matmen

The 1977-78 wrestling team suffered a very disappointing record this year. They recorded two wins against twelve losses. This was partly due to the limited practice facilities available to our potential wrestlers. Our Knights fought with great determination although they came up short of points too few times during the season.

Despite the absence of victories, the Knights proved that they were able to display wrestlers against strong competition in many of the weight classes. Senior Mark Beaumont far surpassed all expectations as he mont far surpassed all expectations as he took second place in the Blue Hen Conference wrestling tournament upsetting the first place seed in his 132 lb. weight class with his extraordinary performance. He had thus gained the opportunity to participate in the State tournament held at the University of Delaware. Mark Nordquist and Mike Voss also fought hard in hopes of gaining victories in their respective matches.

The future of wrestling at Mount Pleasant should be bright. The squad has youth with varsity experience which could prove to be a major factor in upcoming seasons. Names such as Dante Zappacosta, Greg Parker, Dick Bachman, Van Lord, and Jim Blake should be popular in next year's season. Coach Ed Baker is anxiously looking forward to a winning team with many exciting victories.

Chadds Peak

This year's ski team comprised of many fine young skiers had a very successful season. The team had a total of five races. These races were held at Chadd's Peak in Pennsylvania. Mount Pleasant finished near the top in each race against three other schools from the Delaware and Pennsylvania area.

The girls' team had strong competitors with the likes of Nancy Blizzard as captain, Kathy Moyer, and Karin Fyrwald. Kathy tallied four wins in the five races during the season. Nancy and Karin also placed well consistently.

The boys' team also had several standouts this year in captain Doug Wiley, Dan Howe, Dana Walker, Edd Ferris, and Scott Robertson. They placed high in many of the races.

Although the team practiced on their own, they were well coached by Robert Landis. Rose Ewan also gave the team some greatly appreciated help. The team's youth should be a definite edge for the future of Mount Pleasant skiers.

Seniors Nancy Blizzard, Dan Howe, Don Konegan, Kathy Moyer, Patty Schobel, Dana Walker, and Doug Wiley are leaving the slopes in confidence that the underclassmen will continue to achieve successfully.

Winter Track

The winter track team showed steady improvement throughout the season. the team was aided by the opening of an indoor track, behind the high school, in Bellevue State Park. The improved training conditions payed off for the Green Knights, particularly late in the season. Most of the team's best performances then began to take place.

The team, under the direction of Coach Bill Crowther, had several outstanding performers. The girls' top performers were those in the medley relay. The relay, usually consisting of Kirsten Wilson, Robin Brown, Vandana Sinha, and Michele Voss, placed high in several meets. The boys were led by seniors David Hagar and Jeff Lucas. Juniors Bill Bishop and Mike Budischak proved also to be valuable assets to the team. Hagar, who ran well in the two-mile all season, had his best performance late in the year when he finished in third place in a meet at Bellevue State Park. Bishop, despite being slowed by a foot injury, was consistent in the hurdles and ran well in both the 320-yard dash and the mile relay. Budischak ran well not only in the mile, but also in the mile relay.

The underclassmen are looking forward to next year's season. They are hoping that with the use of Bellevue State Park will improve the practice conditions and eventually result in more Green Knight victories.

Spring Track

The spring track team can be found after school running their road courses or doing "bleachers" on the football field. A large group of students have decided to participate on the 1978 team. Both the boys' team and the girls' team are hoping for a bright season with many triumphs.

The boys' team looks exceptionally strong with many members that have been running since the fall cross country season. Seniors Mark Beaumont, Dave Dossett, Dave Hagar, Jeff Lucas, and Dave Rubin usually lead the pack. Other runners are most important to the team in securing points toward a victory.

The girls' team looks equally strong and ready to take on any of their opponents. Senior Vandana Sinha and junior Michele Voss are the top contenders although there are many girls out for the team.

Both the boys' and the girls' team are in serious contention for a high finish in the Conference. They are expected to do well throughout the entire season.

At The Diamond

Experience and talent are the two adjectives which describe the 1978 Green Knight baseball team this season; these two factors all but assure their trip to the tournament in June. Returning as starters are the all-conference corners of Ron DiGiacomo at third and captain Joe Limmina at first, the quickest double-play in the state of Jody Ambrosino at shortstop and Chris Knauss at second, Jim Hughes at center field and captain Jim Goines behind the plate. Left and right fields are open for tryouts this season, but seniors Roy Hicks, Jim Hull, and Doug Amalfitano plan to fill in these spots nicely. News of only one ace pitcher during the off-season in the person of Joe Pluscht, brought on an onslaught of pitchers for tryouts. Paul Fallers, Don Lewis, and Rob Soule figure to help out extensively in that department. The potential of this team is limitless for a large number of the players have been playing together for several years. The team wants the state tournament championship badly, and with this in mind their chances of gaining this goal is good.

On The Field

The 1978 girls' softball team is expecting a victorious season. The team itself was reinstated as a varsity sport in 1976. This has given Mount Pleasant two seasons of playing experiences. Many of the players that composed the squad then are still members of this hard-working team. Diane Cason and Caryn Gloyd are the only senior participants on the team while juniors Lynn Jump, Alice Lewis, Sharon Schneider, Karen Sheldon, and Patti Wheatley are the other returning lettermen.

One disadvantage possessed by our softball team is the lack of proper facilities on which to work out. The team travels by school bus every day at 2:45 to the property once known as the River Road Elementary School. They have treacherous practices and return to the High School approximately two hours later.

The team was under the direction of Miss Oakes this season. This was her first coaching attempt at Mount Pleasant and she was hoping for a very successful season.

On The Court

The 1978 boys' tennis team started their season with strenuous practices which involved a great deal of running. Coach Shoemaker believes this will help the individual players develop the stamina needed to compete successfully against their opponents in their many long, grueling matches.

Seniors Ron Bruehlman, Jim Mason, Kevin Rusche, and Dana Walker will make up four of the top seven positions on the team. Many underclassmen are working with great determination in hopes of securing one of the remaining three positions. Many challenges take place during the season by players wishing to move up a rung on the seven man ladder.

The competition on this year's team should be intense. The 1977 boys' tennis team captured a prestigious third place finish in the annual DSSAA Tournament. The players on this season's team are preparing themselves for a performance in the tournament that can measure up to previous years. Tennis at Mount Pleasant has continuously been strong with many victory-producing players. This year's team is determined to enhance this reputation with a winning season.

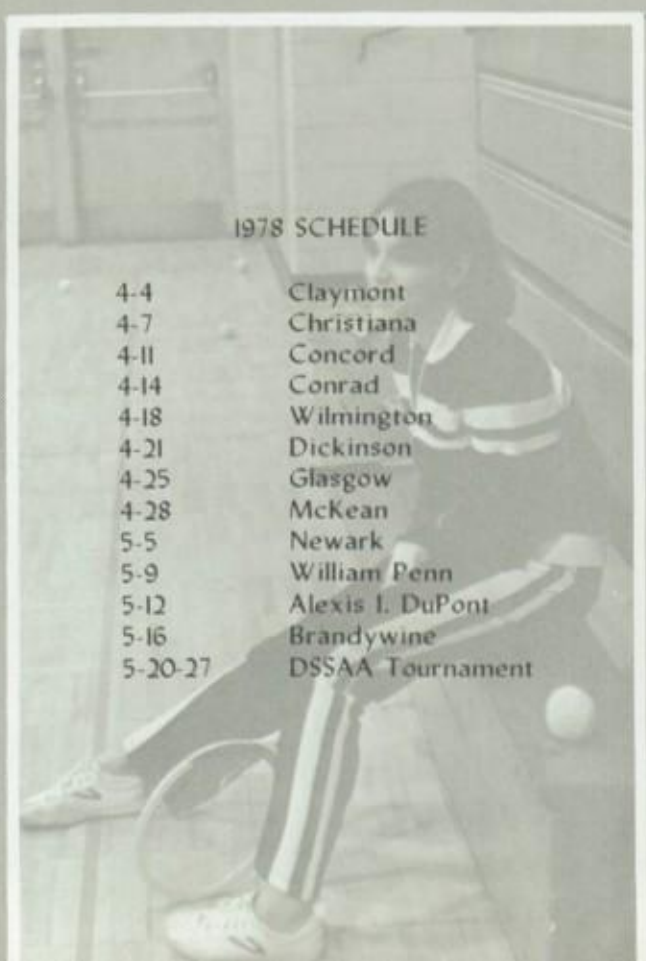
At The Net

The girls' varsity tennis team should be a highly competitive team this year. They will have a twelve match schedule for the season. The end-of-season DSSAA Tournament will bring together many players throughout the state to determine the champion of champions. Returning lettermen Shayna Coonin, Maggie Fleming, Carolyn Kates, Joyce Nidzgorski, Sue Nidzgorski, and Margy Trent should be Mount Pleasant's top contenders in the tournament. Seniors Karen Frankel, Liz Maloney, Allegra Moses, and Nancy Wills are the hard workers needed on the team to set examples for the many underclassmen that will return to the courts in future seasons.

Miss Rose Ewan, the girls' coach, enjoys working with them as a team. The players greatly appreciate all the various types of guidance she offers. She provides the girls with skill-building exercises that enhance their overall game strategy. She is hoping that the 1978 team can repeat their Conference championship and follow through with the all important state title.



On The Green

Last year, the varsity golf team finished the season with an undefeated record and captured the Blue Hen Conference Championship. This year, with the help of five returning lettermen in seniors Al Heatwole and Pete Stenger, juniors Dave Ellsworth and Robert Konstanzer, and sophomore J.B. Whaley, the Mount Pleasant golf team has very promising hopes of securing the State Championship title.

Everyday after school the golf team candidates find their own transportation to the DuPont Country Club where they practice from 3:00 to 5:30. Mr. Tindall, the team's coach, offers assistance to all players who desire such need.

Because of uncooperative weather conditions, the 1978 season was delayed. However, the golfers looked forward anxiously to their first match against Salesianum in hopes of extending their string of victories.

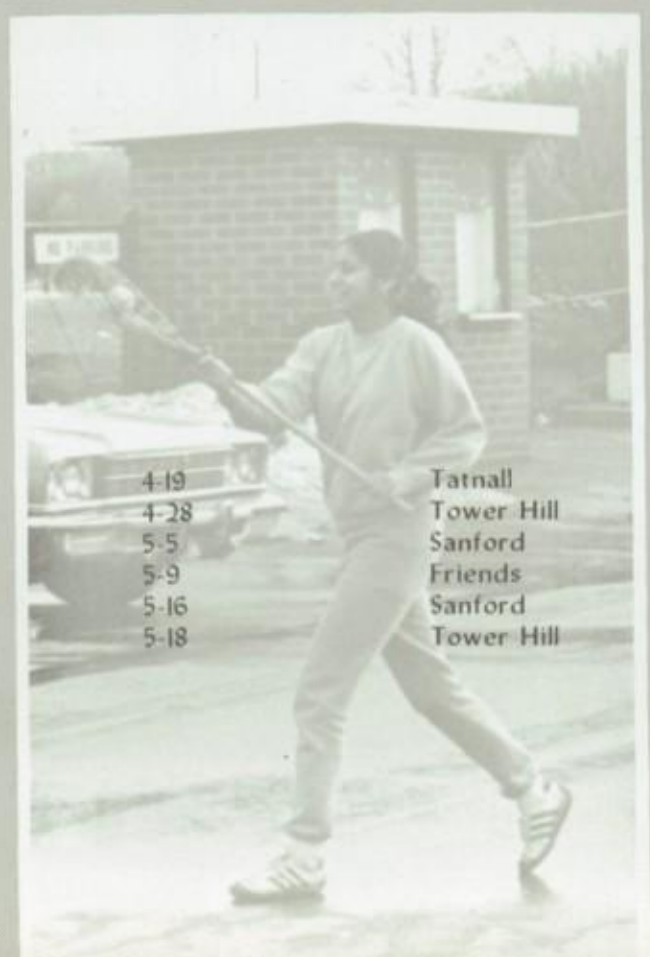
Lacrosse

Last year, at the end of the lacrosse season, the players thought that they had their last chance to play lacrosse at Mount Pleasant because of budget cuts made by the district; however, the interested girls worked hard enough to get the team reinstated as a varsity sport. They succeeded and are working hard toward a victorious season.

Seniors Kim Ide, Stephanie Kaier, Liz Kealy, Jeanette Mori, and Angela Salvatore will help lead the underclassmen to a successful season. Many girls have never seen lacrosse played but are willing to work hard and learn about the game. The seniors are very helpful during the many instructional periods that make up the team practices.

The team has a light schedule; they will play many team from private schools. The absence of neighborhood schools in their schedule does not take much away from the intensity of the season. The girls are always charged up in pursuit of victory.



Cheerleaders

Getting the sports year under way with a pep rally, the cheerleaders found a welcomed increase in school spirit. Not only did they work hard to promote that spirit but also devoted much of their time to various activities such as making posters, washing cars, and baking and selling "goodies" to benefit the teams. Most of the proceeds of the cheerleaders' efforts went to the organization and presentation of Homecoming. This included an after game tea for the queen and her court and the dance that evening.

Last summer the cheerleaders attended camp sponsored by the International Cheerleading Foundation at the University of Delaware. While they were there, they took first, second, and third prizes: second prize for overall competition, and the "Fire Stick" awarded for the most spirited squad. Our senior cheerleaders are once again looking forward to serving on the Blue-Gold All Star Squad this year.

What can be told of the Sophomore's tale
That hasn't been told before?
Ye must drive Freshmen nuts without fail
As in days of yore.

Be terrors on the road me fellows,
Take heed! And take Driver's Ed.
Thee must know but thine greens from thine yellows
And have eyes in the back of thine head.

In Science, ye shall have the best, mates,
Biology, study shall ye,
Noting plant life and growth on thine test plates
With O'Connor, Lauser, or "D".

Such is the life of the Sophomore, me chums,
In the bellows of Mount Pleasant High.
Too swiftly thine difficult task it comes
But swifter it passes, aye!

Band Front

This year the band front has changed considerably from previous years. A new co-ordinator, Kathy Talley, was introduced and began to supervise a newly enlarged squad. Junior Kim Czerwinski was the new captain of a relatively inexperienced, but outstanding silks squad. Kathy Moyer and Nancy Wills, both seniors, were the co-captains of the color guard. The majorettes twirled under the direction of senior Kathy Thomas. Featured twirler for this year was senior Kathy Frasher. Through many hours of hard practice the band front's marching and timing became excellent. They have proudly participated in several competitions with the band, for which they received high scores.

Mount Pleasant Marching Band

The Mount Pleasant High School Marching Band had a busy year. Everyday during seventh period members could be found on the football field practicing routines for a competition or a weekend football game. Phillip DeFranco, director, with the help of drum majors Rise Wilson and Don Konegan supplied the band with the leadership and knowledge needed to receive the high honors that the band was awarded in the competitions they entered. On October 15, the band went to Upper Merion, Pa. to compete in the Upper Merion "Cavalcade of Bands" Festival. Next came the New Castle County Field Band Festival on November 5. In the spring they returned to Winchester, Va. for a second year to compete in the Apple Blossom Festival. To conclude a very eventful year, the band marched in the Tall Cedars Parade in Atlantic City, N.J.

Concert Band

The Mount Pleasant Concert Band maintained a busy schedule during this past year. Along with competing in several adjudications throughout the area and working on music for the Winter and Spring concerts, Mount Pleasant was the host school for the all-state band concerts presented of February 9, 10, and 11. All this intense effort made possible a trip to Winchester, Virginia at the end of the year. Each of the eighty-five members donated his time and effort to the paper drive to raise money for this trip. Returning for their second year, the band had high hopes of bringing home a trophy from Virginia.

All State

Thirteen of Mount Pleasant's Concert Band members were chosen to represent our school in the All-State Band this year based on their musicianship and technique. These talented individuals were Eliene Augenbraun, Dave Furbush, Jamie Wolinski, Scott Surer, John Akeley, Joy Mundy, Laura Fry, Rise Wilson, Mike Coleman, John Harder, Rick Koch, Don Brill, and Laura Fauser (not pictured).

Although there was not an orchestra at Mount Pleasant this year, several of our students showed great determination and talent by auditioning and winning seats in the All-State Orchestra. The members included Laura Fauser, Laura Fry, John Akeley, Jim Hawkins, Paul Mahr, Howard Naughton, and Gladys Davis. Not pictured are Karen Bauchwitz, Mark Golin, Marla Tocker, Amy Schwartz, and Neal Kurz.

Mount Pleasant's Concert Choir participated avidly in this year's competition for All-State choral status. Nearly one-fifth of the entire choir membership achieved placement. These students were Mike Villanueva, Elaine Everett, Diane Cason, Lisa Kirk, Dave Villanueva, Crystal Nichols, Robin Cotchin, Marta Rubin, Tracy Bell, Alex Bovard, Clarice Jarmon, Mary Hawkins, Gloria Chambers, Ann Kahn, Linda Annabell, Doug Wiley, Tom Montanaro, Sean Dahl, Dave Wiley, and Dave Martin.

Chorale

Renamed and rejuvenated with many new faces and gifted voices, MTP's Chorale gave the community several versatile concerts during the year. The Chorale, an outgrowth of the immense all-school choir, was able to experiment with different facets of musical expression because of its small size; for instance, the group gave MTP its debut performance of a medley from the hilarious P.D.Q. Bach Christmas repetoire. In the spring we witnessed a change of pace in the singers' performance of a mini-opera entitled "Speak-up". Special 7th period classes as well as opportunities to perform at the Mary Campbell Center and the Wilmington Public Library gave the group a polished and confident appearance. Much credit goes to Mrs. Susan Bruerton, the choir director.

Concert Choir

This year's choir rehearsal schedule was doubled to two practices a week after school and numerous small choral group sessions during the school day. The increased practice time helped to develop much fine talent and provide the basis for several strong performances.

But the MTP choir, far from being just an ordinary group of singers, has for the past two years also been deeply devoted to various fund-raising activities which have enabled them to finance several adjudication trips, a recording session, and a senior scholarship fund. These fund-raisers included such intriguing pursuits as plant sales, glass drives, car washes, Silverside PTA movie-baby-sitting, spring garage sales, and the now notorious "sub" sales.

Drama Club

Hey Wan!
That picture
Sucks
But anyway,
have a nice summer & take it easy.
Andrejs

For the first time in quite a few years Mount Pleasant was without a Drama department and the subsequent funds usually awarded this area of education. Concerned students however, refused to abandon the idea of active theater at our school. With the help of Mrs. Ann C. Guerke a drama club appropriately called "Knightimers" was formed. Weekly tuesday meetings and exhuberant talk-menship during an unusual jewelry sale fund-raiser provided the club with a solid foundation for accomplishing its plans. A psychological, mystery thriller, Night Watch by Louise Fletcher, was performed despite unexpected snows as well as a night of student directed one act plays. The technical crews supported the casts with lighting effects. In addition, much creative effort went into the building and improvising of sets, props, costumes, and make-up. These involved students showed through their determination and sheer effort that drama is still very much alive at Mount Pleasant.

Talent Show

For the second year in a row, Mount Pleasant's student council sponsored a melange of creativity loosely termed "The Talent Show". This appealing fund-raiser attracted quite a crowd for a school night performance and gave the student body a chance to display their talents musically, vocally, rhythmically, and comically as daring souls exposed themselves to the footlights. Our hosts for the evening were Alegra Moses and Jimmy Drane (who surprised us with an elegant tux and top-hat), with Mr. Alan Robb as faculty advisor.

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

Student Council is an important part of our school. This year's council worked hard to improve our student government by taking up new ideas and continuing to put old ones to use. The council sponsored activities such as bake sales, car washes, dances, student exchanges, and a rock concert. Representatives were chosen from English classes as a means of improving communication. This got more of the student body involved through discussions and questionnaires, thus proving to be beneficial for all. Afterall, there's more to Student Council than getting out of class!

Comprised of the top ten-percent of the Senior Class of 1978, this year's chapter of the National Honor Society played an important part in our school's functions by serving to generate caring and interest in the problems of others. As proof of their productivity as a community group, the Honor Society continued to sponsor the Korean orphan, Chang Myung Yul, as well as volunteering to tutor students in such subjects as Foreign Languages and Mathematics. The ultimate goal of the club this year was to contribute something to the school. Thus, this year's members voted to continue such activities as the sponsorship of a popular feature film and several bake sales. In addition, money was installed in a scholarship fund to provide for the continued education of other students in our school. After the third marking period, additional members were selected from both the Senior and Junior Classes. In the Spring, an induction dinner was held for these new members.

Collage

This year's Collage staff was one of the largest, most efficient, and best organized ever. The four officers, editor-in-chief, assistant editor, art and photography editor, and financial manager whipped up spirit, dealt with day-to-day problems, and maintained course towards Collage's main objectives, printing the best works of a variety of Mount Pleasant students. The officers were ably aided by their sponsor, Mrs. Sherwood, twenty official club members, and over fifteen associate members who contributed where they were able.

A big sale of candy bars filled Collage's coffers. Members became expert salesmen by convincing us all that to buy a candy bar would stave off the hunger of a distant lunch period. In addition to this fund raising, members visited English classes to "drum up" student contributions. A long search for the "ultimate" printer and the subsequent distribution of the 1978 Collage publication ended the club's successful year.

DECA members getting ready for a meeting.

The goal of the DECA was to enable each member to acquire a more acute awareness of the business world in general and the area of marketing in particular by being actively involved with the club's fund raising events and by participation in the competitive events at the state and national conferences. Funds were raised through such self-supporting drives as candy sales and car washes. Important functions attended by DECA members were the third Annual Organizational Luncheon in early November, the second Annual Jeans Jam held early in January, as well as the State and National Conferences held in early March and mid-May respectively. A trip to either Florida or the Bahamas was also planned.

The Language Club, which originated as the Russian Club, has been expanded into a club that deals with all languages. Meeting once a month, the club attempts to increase appreciation of the importance of foreign languages in present American culture. Some important functions held by the Language Club this year were the annual banquet at which no English was spoken, trips to New York and to Moscow Circus, and the sponsorship of guest speakers.

Leadership provided school by long-time teacher and administrator

by Mary Ellen McAndrew '79

Did you ever stop to think of all the things that have to be done in order to maintain a sound school program at Mt. Pleasant? Schedules must be arranged, curriculum decided upon, needed supplies purchased, and disciplinary actions taken, just to mention a few. What man successfully undertakes this difficult and time-consuming job year after year? The answer, of course, is our school principal, Dr. John Michalcewiz.

As principal, Dr. Michalcewiz is responsible for all phases of the school program, both instructional and non-instructional. The major concerns of his post are curriculum, supervision, administration and discipline. To cope with the tremendous amount of work involved, assistant principals Ethel Morgan and Robert Huffman, associate principal Dr. Wayne Pollari, acting assistant to the principal Donald Knotts and Dr. Michalcewiz operate as a principalship; that is, each principal works with certain aspects of the job. Dr. Michalcewiz claims full responsibility for everyone's actions. He feels that this principalship is very effective. As he puts it, "I couldn't do it alone."

Although the current school year got off to a relatively smooth start, two problems have caused concern, classroom crowding and student disruptions.

Classroom crowding has affected almost every student. This crowding exists mainly because the Mt. Pleasant School District can't afford to hire teachers and support the other costs of running the school. Dr. Michalcewiz explains, "The prices of critical and non-instructional materials went up; therefore, some teachers were cut to support these costs as well as others that have eroded our funds. We had anticipated larger class enrollments, and therefore that classes would have to be larger. The overcrowded conditions are basically due to the last surge of voluntary transfer students to register." Dr. Michalcewiz said that since the start of school, new teaching units have been added and he hopes that this will alleviate some of the classroom crowding problem.

The second major problem to affect our school has been student fighting. This fighting grew out of ignorance and fear on the part of a few students. Dr. Michalcewiz explains that these students were feeling both intruded upon and shortchanged, and fighting resulted because "it's so easy to exaggerate when you have strange conditions." He expects no future out-breaks of fighting: "Fighting was only spontaneous; there was no wall of hate between pupils."

Aside from these two troubles, Dr. Michalcewiz feels that this year is starting off very well. There have been no traces of student apathy, with more tickets running for class offices, and more support for both clubs and athletic teams. He says, "It's encouraging to see some indication of increasing student interest." In Dr. Michalcewiz's opinion, the highlights of the year will be student activities, continued interest in athletics, and higher quality musical organizations. Dramatics will also be a highlight because "although there is no drama instructional program, a drama club has been formed and productions will be continued."

Dr. Michalcewiz has been at Mt. Pleasant for quite a few years, both as a teacher and a principal. He first came to the school in 1956 as a biology teacher and assistant coach for both baseball and football. In 1958 he became the head baseball coach. He became assistant principal in 1962 and principal in 1966. His education consists of a Bachelor's degree from Millersville State College, a Master's from the U of D, and a Doctorate from Temple University.

When not busy performing his duties as principal, Dr. Michalcewiz enjoys attending athletic events, theater, and opera. At home, he likes gardening and doing "handiwork around the house."

Our principal, Dr. Michalcewiz, is a real leader at Mt. Pleasant and one on whom we can count for sound judgement and leadership.

Dr. John Michalcewiz, "... a real leader ..."

Council news

SC makes changes in format

by John McGinty '78

When Student Council began meeting in September, there appeared to be many people missing. The reason is that council is operating without alternates for the first time. Another major change is that representatives are elected in English class instead of homeroom. These moves are only the first of many planned to make Student Council better able to serve the school. Officers for this year are seniors Anthony Piretti, president; Steve Kates, vice-president; Julie Barnett, secretary; Angela Salvatore, treasurer; and junior Mary Diana, corresponding secretary.

One of the first orders of business to come up was the appointment of committee chairmen. The chairmen and their respective committees are as follows: John Burr '79, school store; Sue Nidzgorski '78, student exchange; Gloria Chambers '78, community action; Linda Annable '78, activities; Mark Nordquist '78, communications; and Cecilia Rowe '78, assembly. The music committee is still in the planning stages with a chairman due to be appointed sometime in the near future.

At the first meeting, a motion was made and passed unanimously to form a student relations committee. This committee will aid in the easing of any tension in school by bringing students together to talk about their feelings and problems instead of fighting about them. Seniors Allegra Moses and Glenn Scrivens were appointed co-chairmen of the committee. All of the committees, with the exception of music and student relations, are already in action and are busy planning upcoming student activities.

The decision was also made to have an administrator present at all meetings. It is felt that this will save a great amount of time and repetition if an administrator can be in on discussions from the very beginning. One of the first topics to be discussed with an administrator is the possibility of having the student center and smoking court opened again. This reopening is of concern to a great many students.

One of two other firsts for this year's Council was the charter of a new club. Allegra Moses, president of the Pep Club, motioned for the charter which was granted. (See additional article on Pep Club.) The other was the induction of two Green Flash staff members as honorary members of Student Council. Seniors John McGinty and Rick Humphreys, editors of the Green Flash, will be on hand at all meetings to gather the very latest Council news. The actions of Student Council will be reported in every issue of the school paper.

DECA elects officers

by Rachel Ashley '78

The newly elected officers of the school's chapter of DECA are: Kim Kornack '78, president; Jane Wise '78, vice-president; Michele Lingle '78, secretary; Debbie Marshall '79, treasurer; Rachel Ashley '78, reporter; and Ken Lipstein '78, parliamentarian. These students as well as the other members of the club are enrolled in either the Distributive Education or Diver-

AFS students here

by David Bowden '79

This year, thanks to the American Field Service, Mt. Pleasant is fortunate to accommodate two exchange students. Patricia Schobel, from Bludenz, Austria, is staying with Stephanie Kaier '78. Wilma Cavieres, from La Serena, Chile, is the guest of Kyle Isaacs '79. It is interesting to note that Wilma, as well as Patricia, hopes to pursue a career in law.

Both girls see many differences between their own schools and Mt. Pleasant. In Austria, Patricia studies thirteen different subjects throughout high school. She attends classes Monday through Saturday for five hours each day. Another difference is that Austrian teachers change classrooms instead of the students. Also, if students feel hungry they are permitted to leave the classroom to eat.

At Wilma's high school in Chile, there is no lunch period; however, students are given plenty of lean students vary from day to day.

From observations made during her short stay thus far, Patricia notices that there is less tradition here than in Austria. Both girls, too, find transportation to be a bit of a problem. In their home countries there is public transportation that goes nearly everywhere. Delaware's public transportation does not compare, and the girls often find themselves looking for rides. They also find that people here are less informed about the AFS program.

In their native countries Patricia and Wilma are both quite active. Patricia enjoys skiing, playing tennis, and swimming. The thing that she misses most about home is her long walks with her German Shepherd. Wilma likes to sail, go horseback riding, and swim.

Patricia and Wilma are thoroughly enjoying their stay here and are learning a great

The Green Flash continued its fine tradition of covering school happenings and providing a forum for voicing student opinions this year. Throughout all four editions published this year, an unusually high level of quality was maintained. Numerous contributors submitted a variety of wide-ranging articles, and the editing staff did an excellent job of refining, condensing, and organizing these efforts into a high school newspaper which received countless compliments.

The emphasis of this year's coverage was on school clubs and organizations. An interview with an important member of the school staff highlighted each issue. In a successful undertaking designed to increase sales, each issue also contained an opportunity to win a lottery drawing.

AFS Club

The AFS, one of Mt. Pleasant's oldest organizations, has been active for the past twenty years. Each year AFS sponsors students from foreign countries to spend a school year or a summer in the United States. For every foreign student our AFS chapter sponsors, two Mt. Pleasant students may apply to go abroad. Seniors John Akeley and Linda Annable have applied to spend their summer vacation this year abroad. Scholarships were available for interested students.

Sponsored by Mr. Menser and Mrs. Heck, AFS raised scholarship money, increased student interest in foreign affairs, and planned activities for exchange students here. This year AFS took trips to New York City and to Washington, D.C. Students visited the Empire State Building, Radio City Music Hall, Broadway, the Washington Monument, the White House, and other historic sites.

Pat Schobel and Wilma Cavieres, our AFS students.

After being accepted by the AFS chapter in La Serena, Chile, Wilma looked forward to meeting her new AFS family, the Isaacs. Since she has been here, Wilma has discovered that students don't take advantage of all the scholastic opportunities they are offered. Wilma speaks both Spanish and English; therefore, the language barrier was no problem.

While in the States, Wilma visited California, went skiing, and watched many sports events and attended AFS affiliated affairs.

When she was asked if life in Delaware was much different from Chile, Wilma replied that there were many differences, but transportation is our greatest problem. Chile provides a wide-ranging bus service, but in Delaware Wilma found that she was constantly asking her friends for transportation.

When Wilma graduates from high school in Chile, she hopes to study law at a university.

During her stay in the United States, Pat was the guest of the McPheeters family. Mrs. McPheeters is the chairperson of AFS in this district. Pat speaks French, German, English, and a little Spanish; therefore, she had no trouble communicating. Pat's Austrian home is in Bludenz, an average-sized city. Pat noticed many differences between her homeland and our country, particularly transportation and education. Austrian transportation is mainly in the form of trains and busses rather than cars. Schools in Austria are much more difficult than schools here. Pat also noted that students in Delaware did not seem to take as much interest in AFS as do students in other countries.

During her stay, Pat attended operas, social and athletic events as well as AFS affiliated activities.

After graduation from high school in Austria, Pat plans to go to college to major in Law.

Chess Club

The Chess Club with faculty advisor Mr. Lupin, once again flourished at Mount Pleasant. From the membership roster of this club, five top players were chosen to form the Mount Pleasant Chess Team which represented the school in the New Castle County Chess Conference. Led by able captain David Ruth, this team composed of Fred Bauchwitz, Robert Bauchwitz, Randy Carter, Rick Humphreys, and Spencer Jung achieved one of the best records in recent years as they strived to capture the championship at the Conference.

WMPH offers the unusual opportunity for students to train for a career in communications as well as to provide local youth entertainment to our student body. Events sponsored by WMPH included the annual Valentine's dance, and a rock concert featuring local talent. WMPH's chief fund raiser was a "phone in your pledge" radio marathon held over Thanksgiving vacation. Discos were also sponsored at private and public dances.

Pep Club

"School spirit here" was a typical slogan of one of the school's newest clubs, our Pep Club. This group was comprised of many active girls dedicated to stirring up the latent enthusiasm of our student body. Creative posters to decorate the drab hallways of our school and vocal inspiration during sports competitions were the manifestations of such dedication. In addition to these efforts, club members strived to contribute financially to the athletic fund and to supply busses to athletic events held at opposing schools. The club's many fund-raisers included a bake sale, a "disco" dance, and pompom and license plate sales. Monday meetings after school were faithfully attended during the entire school year to accomplish these objectives.

Supervised by Mr. James Shoemaker and organized by able captains Julie Barnett, Ron Digiacomo, and Joe Pluscht, twenty-eight Mount Pleasant students provided much needed services during fall and winter athletic events. These ticket sellers and ushers help to keep home games running smoothly by handling money, guarding doors, and giving directions.

Throughout the season, each volunteer serves an average of seven games, generally arriving forty-five minutes before each game time and remaining on the job until half-time.

Being part of the student service team, however, is not without its benefits. Ticket sellers and ushers attend all home games free of charge and acquire valuable experience handling money and dealing with people.

Homecoming

An annual event at Mount Pleasant, the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, took place during half-time of the Claymont vs. MTP game. Nominated this year for Homecoming Queen were Julie Barnett, Charisse Carroll, Kairsten Cole, Julie Hoopes, Angela Salvatore, Margie Trent, Tanya Vaillancourt, and Kim Walters. Although the season was not a good one for Mount Pleasant, Homecoming Day was a double victory. Mount Pleasant defeated Claymont. The choice for Queen was also excellent; Charisse Carroll was crowned by Joey Piretti, the president of our Student Council. Charisse recieved a bouquet; then she and her court were driven past the spectators. To improve on an already stupendous day, the cheerleaders prepared one of our gymnasiums for the Homecoming Dance.

This year for Halloween the Seniors went a little crazy (crazier than usual). They wore original get-ups which impressed us all. Costumes ranged from innocent looking bunny rabbits to ladies of the evening. Thus the Seniors upheld one of MTP's newest traditions.

Many weekends before the Brandywine vs. Mount Pleasant football game, members of every class could be found working diligently on their portion of the school float. Hard workers Mike Osman, Carolyn Kates, Steve Kates, and David Bowden coaxed and coached everyone working on the float until the morning of the game when the float was finished. Although the "Fighting Knights" were not victorious at football, our float made a stupendous showing.

Blizzard Of '78

At first the weather reports modestly estimated three to six inches of snowfall for the Wilmington area; but as the leaden gray skies refused to clear, predictions became more desperate and the population was horrified by the intimation of nearly a foot of snow. Well, not the entire population - students were overjoyed! Not since the 1950's, according to the District office, had a snowfall prevented classes from being held for so many days. The situation became such that the Governor of Delaware declared a state of emergency. Even the heartiest of snow shovelers discovered that defeat was inevitable. Skiers, skaters, and sledders rejoiced. January had brought two days of unexpected vacation; February brought four. Upon returning to school, students found that the month of June's school days had been stretched to make up for the winter mishap but most were quite happy with the unusual space of time during which MTP became a winter wonderland.

Dances

Amidst valentine hearts, pulsating rhythm, and bleachers garnished with streamers, our school's dancing populace turned out in full force to assure us that "Saturday Knight Fever" was indeed a catching phenomenon in Mount Pleasant. MTP dances afforded students with a varied range of music and mode of dress, from disco (Pep Club Disco Dance) to down-home country (Sadie Hawkins), and from jeans to semi-formal.

Spirit Week

The week before MTP met their Brandywine opponents in basketball on February 24th, all four classes exhibited spirited rivalry in preparing decorations for the student center and B-Gym. The senior class members diligently traced life-like poster sized pictures of each member of the team. These were hung on silver foil that completely covered the walls of the student center. The gym walls sported huge posters depicting a Knight victory. This advance optimism was splendidly paid off in one of the most exciting wins of the season. In addition, all those people who contributed their after-school time and hard work were rewarded with the numerous compliments of appreciative spectators.

Class Rings

The mighty Green Knight, lance and shield at his side, rears his trusty charger, and MTP's scholastics coat-of-arms accompanies the numerals that are synonymous with the definitive personality of the Junior Class of "79". This is the long awaited class ring. Upon receiving it, this year's Juniors felt anew their not-so-distant destiny and continued the long line of tradition with the sacred ritual of the turning of the class ring. There were 79 class cronies to coax into compliance before the ring could be removed from a devoted wearer's finger. The final turn, of course, was saved for that special knight or damsel in one's life. And just as expected numb fingers and good luck followed.

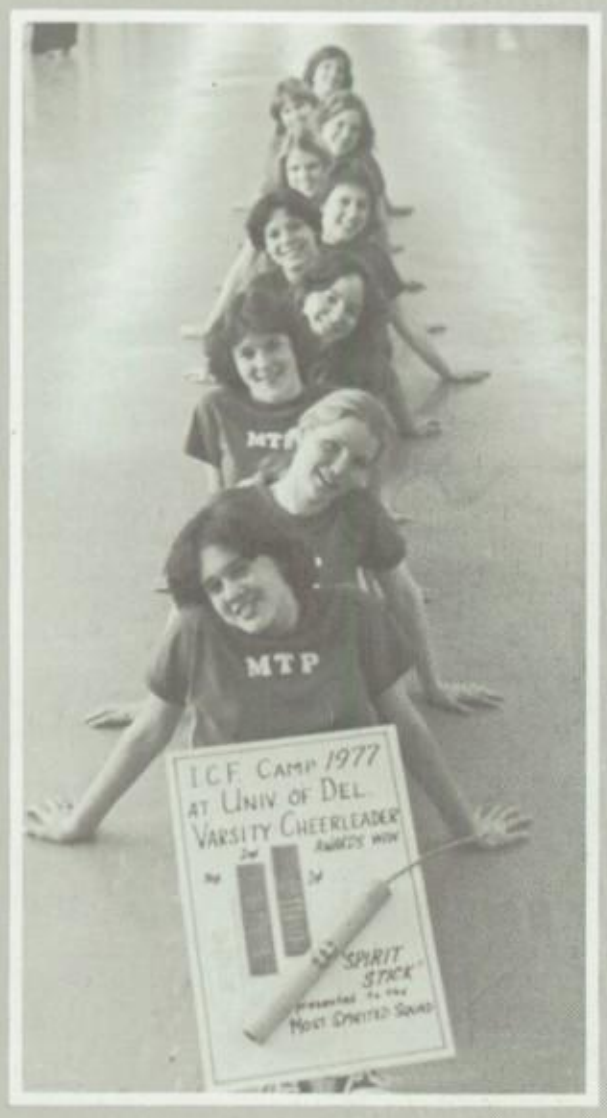
Cut Day

The routine of attending classes was broken on the 78th day of the school year when seniors celebrated what is conspiratorialy termed "senior cut day". Students slighted the administration by obtaining early dismissals, by being absent from school, and by cutting classes. Some teachers displayed their dedication by teaching solitary students. The senior epidemic seemed to be short-lived because classes returned to normal the 79th day of school.

SPECIAL ACHIEVEMENTS

In Recognition Of Excellence



LET'S GO GREEN KNIGHTS! Always exploding with energy, MTP's cheerleaders duly received the Firecracker award for Peppiest Squad at the week-long convention of the International Cheerleaders Foundation held at the University of Delaware last year. In addition, they received a First, Second, and Third place standing for Best Daily Squad.

Donald Brill and Daniel Collins were the first Mt. Pleasant students ever selected to participate in the Delaware All-State Jazz Ensemble. Don ('80) has played the trombone for four years, was second chair in the school band, and was third trombone, first chair for this, his first year of All-State Band. Dan ('78) has played the trumpet for nine years and is primarily self-taught. By learning through the rote method-listening to his favorite tunes and playing along without sheet music over and over, measure by measure-Dan has developed skill in the exceptionally difficult art of improvisation. This ability won him the "jazz chair" position among the trumpets of the ensemble of the best high school jazz musicians in Delaware.

Three members of the class of '78, Cheri Hutson, Henry Moncure, and Richard Stewart opted to enter the Freshman Honors Program at the University of Delaware in lieu of their senior year at Mt. Pleasant. The unique status of these gifted students has provided them with special opportunities in addition to the challenging academic program offered at Wesley College in Dover. On one occasion they dined with Supreme Court Justice William Renquist and were able to ask him questions. Even with their more intense academic studies, these students managed to continue their active participation in extra-curricular activities.

Senior Stephen Kates has the destinction of being selected to participate in the William Randolph Hearst Foundations United States Senate Youth Program. This program entitled two Delaware Students to a one-week stay (January 28- February 4) in Washington to observe government in action. Participants learned more about their government while they observed their national leaders make laws and decide issues. Steve will also receive a $1500 Scholarship to Study American government and related subjects, from the foundation.

Henry attracted the attention and admiration of Mt. Pleasant with his highly spirited and hilarious portrayal of Mr. Doolittle in the musical, My Fair Lady. When, only weeks later he reappeared on the same stage as Charles Schultz's loving character, Schroeder in the musical You're a Good Man Charlie Brown. Henry proved his versatility in acting and singing. Formerly a member of Mt. P's band and choir, he continues with music as a member of the Wesley Madrigal Singers. Henry worked for the University newspaper and yearbook and was a member of the Student Advisory Board.

Cheri has been known for her outstanding achievements in music and sports. She was first clarinetist in the high school band in her junior year. She auditioned and won a place in America's Youth in Concert Symphonic Band which toured Europe that summer. Until tenth grade Cheri was a U.S. Gymnastics Federation competitor. In tenth grade her interests turned to diving, and she is now the record holder of the Delaware High School Diving Championship. Cheri continues to use her exceptional diving talent as a member of the University diving team and as a coach of Mt. Pleasant's team, as well. Her diverse interests also drew her to the University's band, the yearbook and the radio station.

As a semifinalist in the Merit Scholarship program, Richard's high academic standing is not to be questioned, but his interests also extend into current events and political affairs. He is editor of both a small newspaper and a church newsletter, and is Vice-president of the First State Writers, a group of amateur writers in Delaware. Richard is State Representative, Senator and Speaker of the House in the YMCA model legislature and has worked hard for several major political campaigns. Richard is also a member of the Student Advisory Board at Wesley and has received a partial scholarship to attend the University of Delaware as a Freshman Honor Student.

proximately 15,000 students across the try have been named Semifinalists in National Merit Scholarship Program. finalists are the students who scored highest in the state on the PSAT/ QT. Students who qualify as Semi- ists represent the top half of one ent of the nation's most academically ted young people.
be considered for scholarships Semi- ists must advance to Finalist standing meeting further requirements. These irements include being fully endorsed recommended for scholarships by their ol principals, maintaining school records h confirm high academic standing, and rgoing a second examination.
t. Pleasant's Semifinalists are Chris man, Gladys Davis, Pat Houghton, Joy dy and Richard Stewart.

This year fourteen Mt. Pleasant students received Commendations in the twenty-third annual National Merit Scholarship Program. This honor is the result of each student's outstanding performance on the PSAT/NMSQT which was administered in their junior year. Students in this group represent less than two percent of the total of graduating high school seniors in the U.S. Commended students do not continue to compete for Merit Scholarships, but each has demonstrated exceptional academic promise.

Douglas Wiley, a member of the Mt. leasant choir and the Mt. Pleasant chorale ill travel to Europe this summer with merican Youth Jazz Band and Choir of elaware. Doug will be a featured soloist the choir.

Hockey players Jeanette Mori and Tracy nonovich were both named for All-Con- rence teams this year. In addition, Jea- tte was selected for All-State.

Cadet Lt. Colonel Patrick Houghton, Cadet Lt. Colonel Chris Coleman, Cadet Major John Liro, Cadet Major John McGinty and Cadet 2nd Lieutenant Paul Skopowski are all active members of the Civil Air Patrol. The basic missions of the Patrol are achieving aerospace education, learning to fly, and inspiring leadership. The CAP is also a part of search and rescue and civil defense readiness.

In addition to the ranks they have achieved Pat, Chris, John and John have received the Amelia Earhart Leadership Award, and all Mt. Pleasant members of the CAP have received the Billy Mitchell Award for aerospace education. Pat Houghton was and John Liro now is the Squadron Leader of an entire unit. John, Paul and John attended Cadet Officers School last year at Maxwell Airforce Base, Alabama National Headquarters. Pat also went to Germany last year with the International Air Cadet Exchange; Chris will go this summer.

It's not just ping pong any more. For John Marshall, age 15, this leisurely sport has turned into serious competition. In May 1977 he came in first in "under 17 singles" and second in "under 17 doubles" at the Delaware Open Table Tennis Competition. He was first in the novice division at the New Year's Open at Arden this year. John has been practicing seriously for about two years.

Laura Fry won the second place position of 'alternate' at the Delaware State Music Teachers' High School Soloists Competition. As a flutist, Laura was required to play several pieces from different eras. She played Pergolesi's "Concerto in D Major" from memory, "Concertino" by C. Chaminade, and the first movement from Aaron Copland's "Duo for Fluet and Piano". Laura did not go on to Divisional competition but never the less should be proud of her outstanding achievement. She made first chair in All-State Band this year.

In David Villanueva's seven years of pian he has received grades of A+ at the Solois Festival Adjudication sponsored by the Dela ware State Music Teachers' Association at th University of Delaware. Under temendou pressure, David also accompanied the MT choir at their adjudications in Washington an Ottawa. In addition David has served a Church organist at St. Helena's.

Robert Bauchwitz and Lisa Messing were named as the only students from the state of Delaware to receive the 1977 Achievement Award in Writing sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

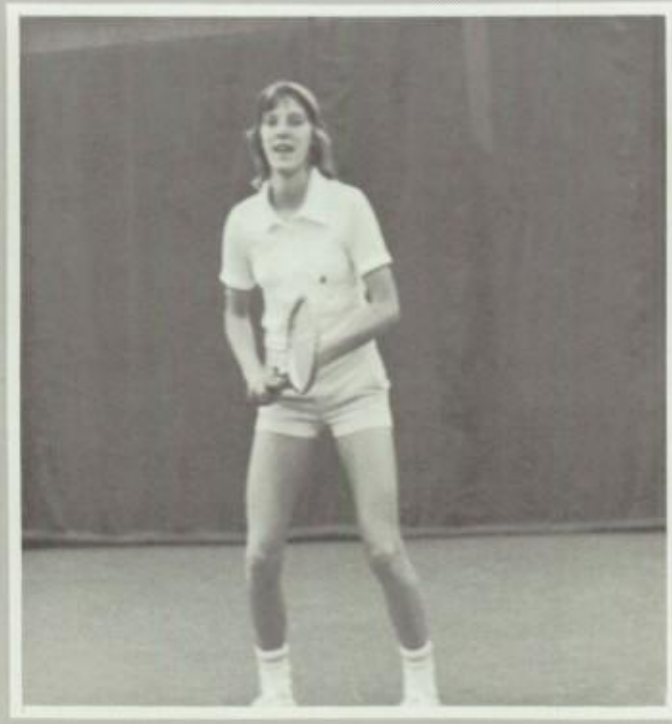
7000 nominees from across the nation participated in the program by submitting a creative writing of their own choice and writing a sixty minute essay response to a detailed question. Lisa and Robert were among the 850 finalists selected by high school and college English teachers. As recipients of this award they also received recommendations by the National Council of Teachers of English for college Scholarships.

Kirsten Abrahamson ('81), Lorin Campbell ('81), and Bonnie Hinterleiter ('79 - not pictured) see a tremendous amount of one another. They spend an average of five hours a day both before and after school skating at the Wilmington Skating School. They are working toward completion of one of eight standard figure tests. Kirsten has skated seriously for six years and has placed fourth and sixth in the initial round of the Novice Ladies division in the South Atlantic Competion. Lorin, a skater for four years, has placed second in interpretive as well as fifth in the initial round of South Atlantics. Bonnie having skated for seven years no longer competes but like Kirsten is working on her seventh test. Lorin is working on her fourth test. It takes much dedication to spend this much time training. Mount Pleasant looks forward to the further development of these girls' skating in the coming years.

Four Mt. Pleasant students were named as the top winners of the state-wide Ability Counts Survey Contest. Jeffery Lucas (first place), Jeanette Mori (second place), Christopher Knauss (third place) and Dana Angeline (fourth place) wrote their views on what affirmative action should be taken to help the handicapped live more comfortably, obtain jobs and end discrimination. The Govenor's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped and the AFL-CIO co-sponsored this program which increased awareness among high school students while giving them the opportunity to respond to the problem with worthy suggestions. Their ideas ranged from special transportation and job facilities to proposals for new legislation focusing on the needs of the handicapped. As Delaware's representative, Jeff Lucas ('78) spent three days at the national convention in Washington D.C. Speakers included First Lady Rosalyn Carter, Secretary of Labor F. Ray Marshall and Richard L. Roudebush, the head of the Veterans Administration. In addition to a tour of the familiar sites of Washington, the fifty state representatives viewed the programs at a local school for the handicapped.

Sophmore Diane Pascal is an accomplished violinist with the Julliard pre-college Orchestra in New York and a second year student at its respective school. Previously a member of the Delaware Repertory Orchestra, Diane had to forego local activities for the more appealing opportunities of New York. Besides intensive study of the violin for nine years, Diane has had eight years of piano training.

Judy Marshall ('78) flips over gymnastics! She competed for the Brandywine-Concord team and placed several first's and second's in vaulting and free exercise. Judy came in second on the uneven parallel bars and tenth all-around at the National Turn Fest her Junior year.

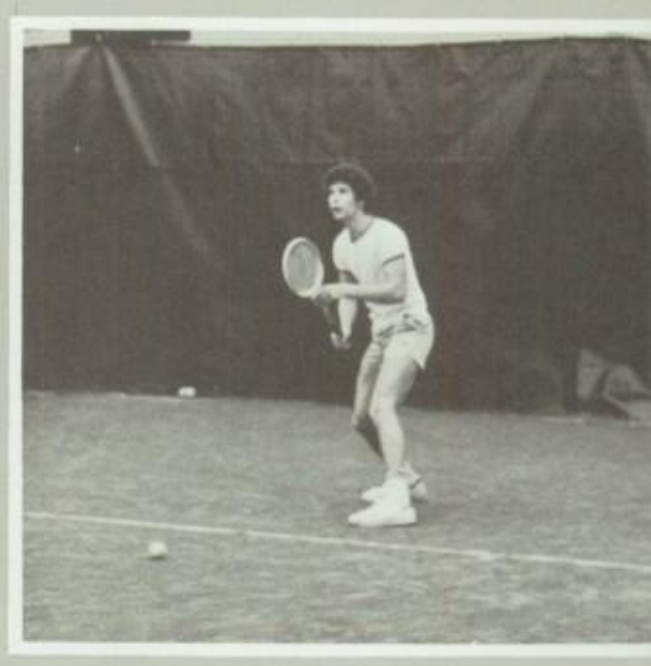


Mt. Pleasant has a history of outstanding tennis players. Joyce and Susan Nidzgorski have distinguished themselves throughout their four years here. In their sophmore year, Sue and Joyce placed first and second respectively in the '16 and under' age group for singles and teamed up to take first in the doubles match of the same age group. Their outstanding performances won them ninth and tenth place positions in the Middle States tournament, this time with Joyce ranking ahead of Sue. Their combined efforts won them the fourth position slot for ages 16 and under doubles in the Middle States. The Nidzgorskis continued their fine showing as they moved into the 18 and under age group in their junior year. Sue placed second and Joyce placed third in the state singles. Together they came in second in the state doubles. Their outstanding performances in three Middle States tournaments qualified them for the National Competitions of the United States Tennis Association Girls Indoor in Massachusettes, Tennessee and Florida. Sue and Joyce have also filled positions at tournaments while not actually competing. They acted as ball girls on the Virginia Slims Circuit and on the World Championship Tennis Curcuit when Jimmy Conners played in the U.S. Pro Indoor.

At any time between 7:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Mark Golin can be found practicing the violin or piano in one of the small cubicles in the music department. Mark doesn't waste a spare moment of time when it comes to music and his dedication is exemplified by the grades he received at the Soloist Festival at the University of Delaware. Graded on tonality, technique, and musicality, Mark received two A's and two A+'s. Mark studies violin at the New School of Music in Philadelphia.

Michelle Jacobs placed as alternate in the Eastern Division Music Competition, held on February 4 and 5 in Albany, New York. Her exceptional vocal talent was evident with her second place standing in December 1976 at the Delaware State Music Teacher's High School Voice Competition. Her first place standing this past December was a determining factor in her being chosen to represent the state this year in Albany. Michelle has sung in the Brandywiner's production of Fiddler on the Roof and has been a member of All-State Choir. She has received grades of A- for the past two years at the University of Delaware music adjudications. Michelle's accompianist is David Villanueva and her teacher is June Cason. Says Mrs. Cason, "Michelle is a joy to work with in every way: musically, vocally, and personally."

Junior Willie Evans had the second highest scoring average per basketball game in Flight A of the Blue Hen Conference this year. In addition, he had the second highest score overall in foul shots. With this incredible personal talent, Willie holds fast and true to the feeling of team spirit. "I couldn't have done it without their (the team's) help," says Willie. "Someone was always there to help and encourage when I was feeling down. The team is not made up of one or two high scorers. It is the whole team working together that wins the game." Willie would like to continue playing basketball in college but his first love and source of relaxation is drawing. Willie plans to major in Art in college.



Mike Schetman ('79) has been playing in state tennis tournaments long before he reached high school. In the summer after eighth grade he was fourth in '14 and under singles' and came in first in singles and second in doubles the following year. After numerous first and second place wins, including second place in the Middle States Championships, he was ranked No. 1 in Delaware following his freshman year. Last summer he placed 10th in singles of the Middle States and was runner-up in doubles at the Delaware States. He participated in the Eastern Claycourt Championships and the Princeton Open and qualified for the Middle States Championships. Mike hopes for a tennis scholarship to college. His immediate goal is to qualify for the Nationals in Michigan this summer.

Mount Pleasant's students selected Al Minuti as their favorite football player in the annual Multiple Sclerosis campaign last fall. At 1¢ per vote, MTP cast 898,900 votes and raised almost $90 for the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Delaware. MTP is represented on the nineteen-member MS All-Star team of 1977 by Al Minuti, Tom Kee, John Seitz, and Phil Clayes. They each received a special jacket from the MS organization. "We had good support from the fans and cheerleaders," says Al.

Seniors Margie Trent, Jim Mason, Ronnie Bruelman, and Dana Walker are four of Mount Pleasant's most avid tennis buffs. Although jobs and other obligations keep them from competing as often as they would like, they have a record of achievement that merits recognition.

Margie and Dana have done most of their competing in inter-scholastic meets. In their freshman year Margie won the 'singles' and Dana came in second place. Margie made it to the quarter finals her sophomore year, capturing second place in 'third singles'. That same year, she advanced to the semi-finals of the state tournament, finishing fourth in the '16 and under' division.

Dana placed second in the state in 'second singles' his sophomore year. He placed third in 'second singles' last year. Jim placed seventh and Ronnie placed thirteenth in the '16 and under' singles of the Delaware state tournament two years ago. They combined their efforts to take second place in the doubles that same year. Last year, they made it to the semifinals of the State doubles in the '18 and under' division and captured first place in interscholastic doubles. In addition to pairing up with Ronnie, Jim has competed in several Middle States tournaments. Congratulations to all on your achievements!

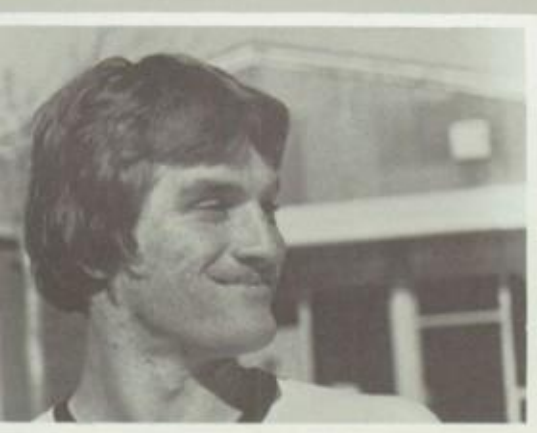
Mount Pleasant's swim teams have had a fantastic year because of the effort put forth by each ndividual member. Eric Ericson, Bruce Gemmell, Gwen Knapp, Tim Macalton, Anders Wellings, Kriss Vilson, and Dave Wise* show true dedication; all put in extra hours working out at the Wilmington quatic Club. Jay Russell swims with the Fox Catchers in Pennsylvania. These swimmers compete for heir respective clubs except during the school swim season. Two MTP swim team members have hown exceptional talent and deserve further recognition here.

Bruce Gemmell (third from left) and Jay Russell (fourth from left) have competed beyond the schol-stic and state-wide level. Jay qualified for the Middle Atlantic Championships for the second year, laing in the consolations in 1977. In August '77 he qualified for the US Eastern Championships in Lan-aster, Pa. One week later he was at Brown University in Rhode Island for Regional I, II, and III competi-on. Jay has held the state record for the 50-meter freestyle for two years. Eventually he hopes for swimming scholarship to college, but his immediate goal is to qualify for the All-American AAU's lational Championships.

Bruce Gemmell has been bringing attention to MTP in state meets and notice to Delaware in Regional hampionships. He won eight gold medals this past year at AAU state meets and placed fifth in the 00-meter backstroke at the Regional US Championships in Rhode Island. Several months earlier his utstanding performances won him 15th place for the '18 and under' division of the Junior National hampionship in Dallas, Texas. Bruce hopes to qualify for the Senior National Championships this August. Star' is the best word to describe Bruce Gemmell. He was one of three selected from his age group or the South Eastern All-Star team in May '. Nashville, Tennessee was the sight of this Middle Atlantic ll-Star meet. Bruce qualified for the Mid-Atlantic All-Stars again this year. His record is truly amazing ut it did not come without years of strenuous daily training. Like the other MTP swimmers who put n time after school, on weekends, and during holiday vacations, Bruce says, "It's worth it." With his ye on the World Game Trials, we wish Bruce, as well as Jay, the best of luck.

Delaware's Junior Miss is Laurie Rubin. The American Junior Miss Pageant is a scholarship program for senior girls; it is not a beauty contest. Judging is based on scholastic achievement, youth fitness, creative or performing arts presentation, poise and appearance, and judges' conference. Laurie choreographed and danced a ballet variation for her talent presentation. In eight years she has studied dance with more than nine teachers in three states and is presently taking 8-9 lessons per week at the Academy of the Dance. As Delaware's Jr. Miss, Laurie worked for the Heart Fund telethon in Dover, was interviewed on WDOV radio, and spoke before the Delaware Assembly and Governor DuPont. Her prizes included a $1000 scholarship, a diamond pendant, and a Kodak camera. In May she appeared on National Television for the America's Junior Miss Finals from Mobile, Alabama. "The experience is incredible," says Laurie. "Between the state and national pageants I have acquired dozens of new friends. The atmosphere is anything but competitive; we all become like sisters."

Laurie plans to pursue a life (for dancing is more than a career) as a professional ballet dancer. Although her state prizes also included entire four-year tuition to three southern colleges Laurie hopes to attend Purchase College, School of Arts, near White Plains, New York.



To participate in the Blue and Gold football game is a much sought after honor. Not only does this game bring recognition to outstanding senior football players and cheerleaders, but it also brings excitement and adventure to the lives of mentally retarded children in Delaware. Jimmy Hull, who also made All-Conference, will be representing MTP on the Blue team at the University of Delaware August 12, 1978. He chose to escort Vandana Sinha. At time of print, Cecelia Rowe and Carol Lipstein had been nominated as cheerleaders. The final decision will be based on community activities, honors, and perception of ideas and values, as expressed in an essay.

The week preceding the game will be filled with activities for the mentally retarded children who are each accompanied by a player or cheerleader. The game opens with an emotionally charged beginning as these children rush onto the field to find their own "big brother" or "big sister" member of the Blue and Gold game.

Valentine's Day this year marked the announcement of winners of a new contest at MTP. Karen Graves ('81) and Tony Moses ('78) worked their way to the titles of "King and Queen of Hearts". All MTP students were invited to collect votes at ten cents each in this Pep Club fundraiser. The winners collected the most money for the club, and in return, received magnificent trophies.

GREENLEAF STAFF

For just a moment, let me take you back in time to an obscure, gray, weekday afternoon. There is a deserted air about that last hallway at the far end of the school, and except for a forlorn echo or two from the cheerleaders' practice session in the student center, all is calm - or so you think . . . But if you happen to tiptoe to the doorway of "the infamous room 108" that last shred of drowsy peace is instantly dispelled. You are now witness to a powwow of somewhat excitable editors who call out alternately to one another:

"The cropper - I need the cropper - who has it?"

"Did anybody take notice where that last job stamp went to?"

"Are you sure these layouts are due for this deadline?"

"Nelli, I need pictures for my section."

"When's it due?"

"Tomorrow!!!"

For these chosen few the word "deadline" is surrounded by brilliant neon lights and most assuredly has no rightful place in the English language; the "pocket system" has nothing to do with the four innovative pockets in a pair of Levi's, and the "hunt and peck" route is the grim flat-tipped forefinger reality of the uninitiated but desperate typist.

But having survived the anxious moments and unanticipated challenges this year has brought, the members of this staff can sit back and between wondering fingers feel the cool green cover of this book that is for them a singular gratification.

And you, the student body, will also eagerly but curiously peruse these pages perhaps glimpsing a photographic setting you vaguely remember - recalling that surprising clock of the camera that froze you into instant posterity.

There were many fleeting moments - a hockey triumph, a football lunge, a-mad-dash-change-of-class-hallway, a lunchtime philosophical debate - that like errant butterflies were caught in a net just escaping our school year's fading prime. It is the hope of this staff that these will represent your bittersweet memories of the time of our "Meeting In Passing".

Well Dave,
what can I say?
Another year over and another year approaching too fast!! I thought it we were through with Mrs
Beck - the blackest, wickedest witch of Mt Pleasant. Too bad I didn't go to Germany with you and everyone else - but Spring Vacation, and I came back half dead from year - you can laugh at me ceadlines, cropping (sp?), copy, white space!
but it is hard for me to believe we only have one year - just one more year of that damn school - but we had good times too. Remember the parties we did in Spain (sp??) we mid this year - (you) yelling at the cars falling into the tennis ball ten counts away) os they passed, you hitting the (Of course I bitched
s you drove, you bitching about yearbook, Mrs Beck... you bitching about how fat?? you are?? Well Dave, I'll gain a little too) - I bitched about how fat?? you are?? I was am! and you bitched about how overweight one of these days and you some overweight one of these days and you will lose weight one of these days.

Good luck Dave & Friends always

See you soon

Sail on, silver girl,
Sail on by.

Dear Dave,
Third period study hall was a lot better than I expected (the nicest (penitentiary in the school) your stories from Germany saved us from total boredom. Our card games were great, too. (I hope you appreciated it when I let you win.)
Good Luck,
Gwen

Dear Dad,
Well, let's see.... I met you at the first A75 meeting when you were elected president & I've been running into you ever since. Never forget the trip to N.Y and the exchange students. I know you'll remember N.H... I will too. That was great. Never forget the night we went to "close Encounters ... wintergreen lifesavers & "oh, my knee!!" (How embarassing!) Don't forget (it may be difficult) Doris, and all your vocab. Thanks for all your help with algebra. I'm so stupid in that class. Thank God it's over with. Don't remind me about that phone call I made to you... I was so nervous! Anyway, I'm looking forward to the prom, & I hope you are too. It'll be great! See you over the summer.
Love, Joanne
PS. Don't forget the night at Tina's... "I hafta call my mom!"
Johann

Dear Spaz-brain,
It was fun ticketing you. You should've been there when Bill-the-brine & I tackled all over your body (wait a second, I take that back) your whole body (Yuck!) You really a nice guy, even though you drink orange soda. (Yuck!) Have a fun summer, maybe I'll see you since I'll probably see (3 e's) Adrienne. (3 e's)
Stay funny

Dear Dave,
Well, I guess I'll be the first one to write you. I'm sure you're getting tired of seeing your name on the front of so many letters. Sorry I couldn't be there to see you graduate. Maybe we'll have a chance to get together this summer. Congratulations.
Love,
Cindy

Dave (DA-VID, THAT'S SPANISH)

I will never forget Mrs HECK and Spanish and all your speeches (answers). You were lots of laughs and this yearbook is the biggest. In Chemisty you were dumb like me. If you try really hard you could be as stupid as me.

Dave,
I'm glad I got to know ya this year. Hope we have a class together or maybe the same lunch. Have a nice summer. (If you're in Spanish I - you'll die)
Jesus

Nice partying with ya this year. Have a good summer. See ya next year.

Dave,
Don't ever change. If you stay this way you probably will over the summer at the parties. Have a great summer and don't fucked up too much.
Joe

Dave,
You brain, how I envy your knowledge. No need to adore. Have a good summer. See you next year. Hope we're in some classes together. I can cheat off you. Do Europe, although I hardly remember much. I warned you not to drink that much. If we ever go drinking remind me to thumb pretzels and pennys in your drink. DER

Dave,
Have a great summer. Please keep in touch over the summer and remember I'll always be here to listen to your problems. Hasta Lavista!
Love Always,
Carolyn Kates

Dave,
You placed us in so many classes together. Being with you almost every minute of the day made me find out what a really super guy you are. Spanish, study hall, English, Chemistry, LUNCH gave us memories that will take this year quite different and quite special in years to come. Thanks for being my personal chauffer home from lab and to and from various other places. Please keep in touch over the summer and remember I'll always be here to listen to your problems. Hasta Lavista!
Adios!

Dear David,
"You're one wild and crazy guy!" I'm glad we lived in the same study hall so you could help me with my spanish & talk to me when I didn't do my spanish. Good luck next year with anything you do — you deserve it!
Much Luck in '79
Debbie Friedberg

DAVID,
ENGLISH WAS a BLAST HA HA! I didn't LEARN a DARN thing. Even though I didn't see you much, you're ALWAYS there as a good FRIEND. ~~FUK~~ & FANTASTIC time at the PROM with JOANNE; GOOD LUCK IN "79"!
LOVE, CINDY

Dave,
Good Luck next year. I'll be thinking about you. This year back is great you did a great job. Don't forget all the good times we've had in Junior High together. I'll try out college next year and come back & tell you all about it. Take it easy & don't party too much. Good Luck
Love,
Kelli.

Dave,
Well, we weren't exactly in any of each other's classes this year, but we did see each other in the halls. Maybe next year we will have some classes together and exchange a few jokes. (Ha, Ha) Well, have a nice summer, and see ya next year!
Dave Villanueva

Big Dave,
you are; it was; they were; and it will be again.
Have a good summer,
Joe Mantegna

Dave:
It's been fun to be in many of classes this year. I can still remember the day you looked the day after you stayed up all night to finish your yearbook section. Hope you can go on the Europe trip next year. I'm sure I'm going to go. Have a good summer and maybe I'll see you on the tennis courts one day.
